Game Wednesday. Barton Heights vs. Richmond.

The Colts, in a fine exhibition between themselves and Barton Heights, lost their themselves and Barton Heights, lost their place on the ladder and sank to third place. The game was a fast one on both sides, and for five limings it was nothing on a side. Then the runs were made, two by the Northsiders and one by the Colts. Hits were evenly divided, the new Northside pitcher proving something of a puzzle for the hard hitters from Manchester. The crowd liked the playing of both sides, and applayse was loud chester. The crowd liked the playing of both sides, and applause was loud and frequent. The detailed score follows:

The second game was not as intersting as the score was somewhat one-sided, but at times the crowd got into the spirit of the occasion and ursed the Richmonds on to faster ball. As is the usual case with them, the Brownies got a fine lead in the first part of the game, and the Benderites could not overcome them. Bauer being the only one who could cross-the home plate. Waters was hit pretty freely, while Hulcher held them down to half a dozen. The Richmond and Barton Heights teams will play the game on Wednesday. Our situation to-day in plain English is that there is more iilliteracy in the South than there was thirty years ago. This must increase under present conditions, from the fact that if our school population is out of schools, some reason for all this. We find from your valuable contribution of the 24th, the average salary paid teachers for the entire school year varied from $87 for men and $73 for younced its of women in Massachusetts, and $5.30 in Newada.

In plaine English the negro woman, cook in Richmend, who get $8 to $10 per month and hoard, gets more than twice as much as the North Carolina public school lady teacher. Just think of it! While we favor compulsory education laws, still there is much to be and on the other side. The average country school does not offer much to parents and less to the achees, we believe if one-half of the poorly located, comfortless country school hours were sold or given away, and such money added put into well focated from personal or political into well focated in the other side. The guests greatly admired the magnificent mansion, which is now considered one of the linest in London. Its doors will be often open now, for I believe Mrs. Mackay intends dcing entertaining for the benefit of her granddaughter, the daughter of Princess Colonna.

The chief event of Thursday was the Duchess of Mariborough's afternoon party. It was called a "colonial party." Why, it was difficult to understand, because the only person present who could come under the designation was Lady Macdonald, of Earnsellife, whose title is a Canadian one, which she holds in her own right.

The Duchess was looking radiant in black and white. The Duchess of Roxburghe was also among the guests.
